INTRODUCTION

Perched atop a secluded hillside, overlooking Bozeman and the sprawling Gallatin Valley, lies Bridger Views at the Rocking S7 an unparalleled opportunity spanning 20 acres of deeded land with a one-fifth recreational stake in approximately 160 acres, known as the Rocking S7 Sporting Ranch. Among only five available build sites on the ranch, this parcel offers breathtaking panoramic vistas encompassing the Bridger Mountains to the east, the picturesque Gallatin Valley, and the verdant expanse of agricultural land in between. Notably, much of the surrounding Dry Creek area is safeguarded against development through conservation easements, further enhancing the allure of the Rocking S7. The Rocking S7 Sporting Ranch boasts approximately 1,170 feet of fishable Dry Creek, a perennial tributary of the East Gallatin and a renowned habitat for wild trout from the legendary Missouri River fisheries. Complementing the live water fishery, the ranch features a sizable pond, wildlife food plots, shared recreational amenities, and an agricultural component focused on wheat cultivation by a local farmer. This haven is home to the Montana upland bird trifecta pheasant, sharp-tailed grouse, and Hungarian partridge alongside white-tailed deer, mule deer, and occasional elk sightings. Offering a blank canvas, the 20 acre deeded property presents a designated 1 acre residential building envelope ideal for crafting a main residence, guest home, barn, and additional structures. Revel in the breathtaking spectacle of sunrise and sunset, casting their golden hues across the seven mountain ranges visible from various vantage points on the estate. While the views may evolve with the seasons and weather, their capacity to inspire remains unwavering.

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the "Valley of Flowers". The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world's primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
