Charming home on the desired southwest side of Livingston. New Roof Installed In June 2024, New Trim Paint etc Built in 1933, by capable and knowing hands, this home has good bones. A beautifully remodeled bungalow, located on a quiet street, in the heart of Livingston. With two bedrooms and one bath upstairs, a fully remodeled kitchen/dining space, and living room area; this home is artistically articulated to capture a capacious feeling of beauty and comfort. The wooden counter tops in the kitchen were made from repurposed bowling alley lane out of Missoula, Montana. Also in the kitchen, the cabinets are the original cabinets, but have been sandblasted down to the original metal base and refinished with a clear coat, for a polished modern look. The wood on the walls and ceiling in the kitchen and dining area, was milled locally and whitewashed with Benjamin Moore paint to give the home a warm hand-crafted farmhouse appeal. Oak Floors throughout the first level. The sellers applied venetian plaster and waxed the walls in the two upstairs bedrooms, around the fireplace, and on the old coal shoot chimney, giving them an attractive old-world finish. Downstairs this home features a large non-conforming bedroom, large laundry room, a small coal room and a spacious utility closet. The original linoleum flooring was left in the basement foyer to maintain the authentic feel of this home. With a large multi-level deck off the back, through the french doors, this home opens out to a beautiful back yard with old growth lilacs and a very large and majestic Silver Poplar. Fully fenced, this yard feels secluded, private, and wild. The electrical and plumbing have been updated. The property also includes a single car garage w/roomy off-street parking.
