INTRODUCTION

Downtown Bozeman lovers--here's a charming and spacious home located just four blocks from historic Main Street. For buyers seeking a turn-key home within walking distance of downtown, the home is a must-see and the best value on the market currently. Designed locally by Intrinsic Architecture, this 2935-SF residence was a cover feature in At Home Magazine and garnered a City of Bozeman award for historic preservation. The unique floorplan fosters single-level living and accessibility and a concise, low-maintenance yard. The kitchen is well appointed by a cooking enthusiast, and the home is embellished with several built-ins, solid cherry and oak floors, plus a few well-placed historic homages. Upstairs in what served as a home office and gym, the open, finished space could be repurposed as a mother-in-law suite, a large primary bedroom, or a big family room with rough-ins already present for a future kitchenette or wet bar. Don't overlook the generous off-street parking, virtually unrivaled downtown: a detached and oversized 2-car garage, a driveway big enough for two more large vehicles, plus spaces on each side of the driveway for a camper AND a boat. Above the garage is a second-floor shop with potential as a rental. Along with a quiet, Northside corner lot, 323 North Grand is a prime example of Bozeman's downtown living. Sellers open to helping mitigate mortgage rates. Call today!

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
