A true countryside gem, this property is a haven for hobby farmers, entertainers, and those with a love for the land. At its heart, a beautifully restored two-story farmhouse is packed with character and craftsmanship. Step inside to discover custom woodwork, charming inset blinds, detailed trim work under the cabinets, and gleaming butcher block countertops. Bamboo floors whisper underfoot, glass knobs gleam in the light, and an abundance of cabinetry in the built-in pantry makes storage a breeze. Every detail has been designed to delight and surprise in daily living. But wait, there's more! Two delightful accessory dwelling units (ADUs) bring extra charm (and opportunity) to the homestead. Both are single-story, 1-bedroom, 1-bath cottages with mini-split systems for year-round comfort. The newer build features a cozy loft, soaring vaulted ceilings, and architectural flair, while the original ADU has been taken down to the studs and fully reimaged. Each has its own fenced yard, perfect for guests, rental income, or multigenerational living. And then, there's the great outdoors—your own little slice of Montana heaven. Set up for horses, the property includes a workshop (28 feet deep!) with hay storage, an outdoor oven and campfire ring near a babbling creek, and space for every project imaginable. With the natural beauty of Cottonwood Canyon at your doorstep, hiking, fishing, and adventure are just minutes away. For green thumbs, this property is a dream come true. Lush gardens brimming with herbs, flowers, and fruit trees surround a greenhouse, chicken coop, and run. The perimeter is already equipped with electric fencing, keeping your animals (and your peace of mind) secure. With ample space, the possibilities for expanding your agricultural pursuits are endless. Rounding out this one-of-a-kind property is a detached shop for the primary home, with a garage, lean-to storage, and an extra room for hobbies or an office. It's a rare blend of rustic elegance, thoughtful design, and rural freedom all just a short drive to town.

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
