INTRODUCTION

Welcome to Timeless Days.....Timeless Architecture.....Timeless Location. This one of a kind, iconic mid century modern home, designed by the renowned Bozeman architect Ozzie Berg in 1959, has been gracefully owned and cared for by the same family since 1972. Sited in an elevated position on a rare 1.2 acre lot on Spring Creek Drive, in the heart of our community, the home commands incredible views of Mount Ellis and the Bridger Mountains while sloping gradually down to Bozeman Creek meandering through the park like setting which borders Graf Park and our city trail system. Cutting edge for its time in design, form, materials and structure the home features large expanses of floor to ceiling glass, tall clear span vaulted ceilings and dramatic cantilevered roof gables protecting the large wrap around deck. Ipe decking, cherry wood paneling and native eastern Montana stone are just a few of the materials showcased throughout a thoughtful and comfortable floorplan which flows easily from public to private spaces while incorporating lots of glass and ease of access to several exterior spaces, allowing the home to truly live outside in. At over 4500 square foot of total living space, with a main level primary bedroom, office and laundry room, the home lives easily day to day on one level. The lower level is accessed down a beautiful open stairwell flanked by a two story stone wall and dramatic expanses of glass. The lower level incorporates three bedrooms, a bathroom, dry sauna and a large family/game room that walks out to an expansive patio. A true art piece of architecture, the home and property, which has been loved and meticulously cared for throughout the years, awaits its next story and provenance.

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
