INTRODUCTION

Welcome to one of the most special properties in Eagle Rock Reserve. One of only six alpine lots in the community, this 20-acre retreat is tucked among towering evergreens, wildflowers, and two tranquil ponds with cascading water features, creating a private, park-like setting just 15 minutes from downtown Bozeman. Designed by renowned architect Faure Halvorsen and built by respected Bozeman craftsman Jim Syth, the 4,516 SF custom home blends mountain architecture with warmth and livability. Expansive windows frame Bridger Mountain views, while the rest of the home sits quietly within a canopy of mature forest, offering a true Montana retreat. Inside, vaulted ceilings, rich wood detailing, and a dramatic floor-to-ceiling stone fireplace anchor the great room. The thoughtful layout includes a main-level primary suite, a walk-out lower level with guest bedrooms and family room, and a light-filled loft with office or studio spaces, ideal for creative work or remote living. Outdoor living is equally special, with a wraparound deck, covered patio, and peaceful seating areas woven into the landscape. Residents of Eagle Rock Reserve enjoy access to a private equestrian facility, stocked trout pond, maintained trails, and adjacent State Land, with nearby access to Triple Tree Trail and National Forest. A rare alpine sanctuary where privacy, craftsmanship, and the Montana landscape come together, just minutes from Bozeman.

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
