INTRODUCTION

Tucked into the heart of Bridger Canyon, this extraordinary custom retreat is set across nearly 57 acres of breathtaking Montana landscape, where sweeping panoramic views stretch from the Gallatin Range and Hyalite Peak to the Spanish Peaks and all of Bozeman below. Equal parts private sanctuary and adventure basecamp, the property feels worlds away, yet sits just minutes from downtown Bozeman. There is something undeniably magical about this land. Towering, lush forests, private trails, and endless places to explore create an experience that feels more like a mountain preserve than a residence. Wander through the trees, follow trails to the year-round spring, and discover ridgelines and view corridors that reveal breathtaking vistas in every direction. Thoughtfully crafted with Doug Fir timber sourced directly from the property, the home is a true expression of Montana living—natural, refined, and deeply connected to its surroundings. Inside, a massive stone fireplace anchors the main living space, complemented by rich wood flooring and expansive windows that frame the landscape like artwork and blur the lines between indoors and out. The kitchen blends function and design with leathered granite countertops, premium appliances, and instant hot water, all flowing seamlessly into gathering spaces designed for entertaining. The main-level primary suite offers a private retreat with French doors opening directly to the hot tub, a spacious walk-in closet, and peaceful mountain views. Radiant floor heating extends throughout the home. The walkout lower level was designed for both recreation and relaxation, featuring polished concrete floors, a theater area with projector, expansive wet bar, gym space, guest suites, and French doors opening to a covered patio overlooking the mountains beyond. An oversized three-car garage with floor drains and a dog wash station adds everyday functionality, while an impressive 80x35 shop with additional living space above offers flexibility for guests, hobbies, or additional privacy. A rare opportunity to own one of Bridger Canyon's most captivating properties where breathtaking land, unmatched views, and a lifestyle rooted in adventure and beauty come together in a setting that simply has to be experienced.

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
