INTRODUCTION

A fully renovated, virtually new home in one of Bozeman's most established west-side neighborhoods a top-to-bottom rebuild that's nearly unheard of in Elk Grove, where original construction is the norm. Every system and surface has been touched. New roof, new siding, fresh paint inside and out, new flooring throughout, and completely reimaged kitchen and bathrooms mean the next owner inherits the character of a mature subdivision without inheriting the punch list. The main level opens to a vaulted great room anchored by a stone-tiled gas fireplace and oversized picture window easy Montana ambiance, no work required. The open kitchen features a sweeping quartz island with seating for six, crisp white cabinetry, matte-black fixtures, and stainless appliances. Built for entertaining, just as comfortable on a Tuesday night. Five bedrooms including a private primary retreat with direct patio access give the household room to spread out. An additional bonus living room beneath dramatic vaulted ceilings with valley views works as a media lounge, kids' hangout, or home gym. The lower level is the property's secret weapon: an expansive secondary living space with its own full kitchen and separate exterior entrance. Ideal for a long-term ADU, multi-generational living, guest suite, or rental income a flex floorplan that grows with whatever phase of life comes next. Mature trees, established lawn, a covered front porch, and an attached two-car garage round out a home that delivers what almost no other property in Elk Grove can: the lot and location of a settled neighborhood, with the build quality of new construction.

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
