INTRODUCTION

Rarely does a property this substantial become available in such a strategic Bozeman location. Offered together, 621 & 617 N Rouse Avenue consist of two separate parcels (6 lots) totaling approximately 0.48 acres with five existing rental units, creating a compelling opportunity for income, land position, and future potential. Set just outside the Cannery District with easy access to Main Street, local restaurants, coffee shops, farmers markets, parks, Bridger Bowl, and Bozeman's northeast corridor, this property sits in an area that continues to evolve while still offering the character and convenience that make central Bozeman so desirable. The existing improvements provide immediate rental income potential, while the combined parcels create a broader canvas for an investor, developer, or long-term owner with vision. The property includes a mix of unit configurations, city sewer and water, paved road access, tree views, and RA zoning. Whether the next owner chooses to hold the property as a multi-unit investment, improve the existing structures, or explore the future potential of reshaping this corner of Bozeman, the offering is both practical and forward-looking. Opportunities with this combination of location, parcel size, existing income potential, and future flexibility are increasingly rare. Buyer and Buyers Agent to verify all information, including square footage, zoning, permitted uses, rental income, redevelopment options, and city requirements. (UNITS ARE OCCUPIED)

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres(2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size(Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
