Situated on 20 pristine acres within the highly sought-after Norman Ranches community, this exceptional custom residence offers a rare blend of natural beauty, thoughtful design, and extraordinary future potential. Evan Reese Creek flows year-round through the property, creating a stunning backdrop of mature trees, lush riparian habitat, and abundant wildlife. Sweeping, unobstructed views span the entire valley, with mountain ranges rising in every direction, delivering a setting that is both inspiring and unforgettable. Designed by Black Mountain Architects to fully embrace its remarkable surroundings, the home is positioned to capture dramatic vistas from nearly every room. Expansive windows frame the landscape like artwork, while the open-concept kitchen, dining, and living areas seamlessly connect to a spacious deck overlooking the creek, rolling acreage, and panoramic valley views beyond. Inside, refined finishes and modern conveniences create an atmosphere that is both sophisticated and inviting. Quartz countertops, a professional six-burner gas range, stainless steel appliances, radiant in-floor heat, automated shades, smart home technology, and carefully curated design elements combine comfort, functionality, and timeless style. What truly distinguishes this property is the opportunity it presents for the future. The septic system was thoughtfully designed to accommodate up to eight bedrooms, supporting both an expansion of the main residence and the addition of a guest home. Existing plans are available for a two-bedroom addition, while the site has already been envisioned for a future shop, barndominium, or separate three-bedroom guest residence. A secondary driveway loop is in place, creating a seamless foundation for future improvements. The outdoor spaces are equally impressive. One acre of fenced lawn and garden area features new sod, trees, and landscaping, complemented by ten raised garden beds, an insulated shed, multiple creek access points, and ample room for recreation, entertaining, and enjoying the property's exceptional natural setting. Neighboring 40 and 160-acre tracts, gated access, and proximity to more than 70,000 acres of National Forest land and extensive trail systems, the property offers a remarkable sense of space and connection to the surrounding landscape while remaining conveniently located less than 25 minutes from Bozeman, Belgrade, and Manhattan, and just 20 minutes from the airport.

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
