INTRODUCTION

Presented to the market for the first time, this is the rare convergence of architectural mastery, absolute privacy and a setting so breathtaking it must be experienced to be believed. A true legacy estate set on 31+ acres at the top of Bridger Canyon, panoramic views of multiple mountain ranges and the sweeping valley below form a backdrop that cannot be replicated. An expansive outdoor patio extends the living space, offering a vantage point for that privacy and those views in every season. The main residence offers 3 bedrooms and 3.5 baths across 5,270 sq ft, built to a standard of craftsmanship that is the work of Matthew Beardsley as architect/contractor, with open timber framing by Timberworks of Gallatin Gateway, fir beams, doors and detailing throughout, and custom wrought iron fixtures throughout the main house and guest house by acclaimed blacksmith Bill Moore. The price includes all furniture, artwork and furnishings currently in the house (with few exceptions), including specialty pieces: glassware by Simon Pearce, dishware by Grand Canyon China, and flatware by Lisa Jenks. The kitchen is appointed for serious entertaining: a Wolf 60" range, Wolf wall oven, Sub-Zero freezer drawers, Fisher & Paykel dishwashers, dual beverage fridges, a wine fridge, commercial hood, and a custom banquette each detail considered. Whole-home systems include central vacuum, in-floor radiant heat, a roof melt system, and AV/alarm infrastructure. Throughout, art lighting illuminates walls designed for display, complemented by indirect up-lighting that lends a quiet glow to every room. Floor-to-ceiling windows frame the mountains and valley from every direction, making the landscape a constant presence indoors. Warmth follows the same generosity, with custom stone and masonry wood-burning fireplaces in the main residence, guest house and on outdoor patio. Positioned above the generously sized 3-car garage which includes a separate space suited for a shop the guest residence offers 2 bedrooms and 2.5 baths across 1,980 sq ft, outfitted with Wolf appliances, central AC, and offering the same elevated standard as the main home. A custom shuffleboard table anchors a separate space built for games & group fun. Properties of this caliber privately held, impeccably built, and set against Montana's most coveted panoramas rarely come to market, making this one of the finest offerings in the state.

GALLATIN COUNTY

Located in a sweeping valley in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Gallatin County is the most populated and fastest growing county in scenic southwest Montana. Gallatin Valley has a rich history. Native Americans referred to this area as the “Valley of Flowers”. The name seems appropriate because of the great variety of wild flowers found on the mountainsides as well as in the valley. Gallatin Valley derives its name from the Gallatin River, one of the forks of the Missouri river that rises in Yellowstone Park. The Gallatin river, Jefferson river, and Madison river all merge at the town of Three Forks to form the Missouri River. Lewis and Clark named the rivers on their famous expedition to this part of the world in 1805.

There are approximately 1,682,048 acres (2,500 square miles) in Gallatin County including over 16,500 acres in surface water. Approximately 800,000 acres in Gallatin County are owned by the public and managed by several local and national agencies including the Bureau of Land Management, U.S. Forest Service, National Park Service, Montana Fish Wildlife & Parks, Montana Department of Transportation, Department of Natural Resources & Conservation and various local governments. The U.S. Forest Service is the largest land holder in Gallatin

County, currently managing over 665,000 acres. In addition to the Forest Service, various state departments manage approximately 61,000 acres. The Bureau of Land Management holds just over 9,000 acres and an additional 1,600 acres belongs to local governments. On the southern edge of Gallatin County is Yellowstone National Park. Yellowstone National Park is one of the world’s primary wildlife preserves and has the greatest concentration of geysers and hot springs in America. Yellowstone National Park is 2,219,789 acres in size (Larger than Rhode Island and Delaware combined). Over 97,600 acres of Yellowstone National Park is located within Gallatin County.
